Technical Seminars and Money Talks Schedule Finalized for World's Fair of Money in Anaheim

Friday, July 15, 2016—Attendees of the American Numismatic Association's World's Fair of Money in Anaheim are encouraged to sign-up for the ANA's pre-convention, two-day Technical Series Seminars. From the fundamentals of grading United States coins to the more advanced techniques of detecting counterfeit gold coinage, the technical seminars offer proven tips and tools to enhance any collector's numismatic skills and their enjoyment of the hobby. Both seminars will take place August 7-8 at the Hilton Anaheim Hotel, located at 777 Convention Way.

- Fundamentals of Grading U.S. Coins

Instructors: Rod Gillis, ANA education director; and Sam Gelberd, ANA numismatic educator.

Time: 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. (each day)

Knowledge of coin grading not only helps collectors be more confident on the bourse floor, but helps take the worry out of numismatic purchases. The two-day seminar covers many topics and emphasizes the fundamental principles of grading circulated U.S. coins, including the history and evolution of grading standards, analysis of a coin's focal points, technical and market grading, how to determine initial signs of wear and evaluating surface marks, strike, luster and eye appeal.

- Detecting Counterfeit U.S. Gold Coinage

Instructor: Brian Silliman, professional numismatist, and former NGC grader/conservator

Time: 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. (each day)

Many collectors and dealers have unwittingly bought and sold deceptive counterfeits of U.S. gold coins. It's a humbling and expensive mistake to make. But detecting counterfeit U.S. gold coins is relatively easy to learn. Through digital presentation and extensive hands on coin exercises, students will learn the genuine characteristics and counterfeit diagnostics needed to authenticate most U.S. gold coins.

Show attendees are also invited to attend the ANA's free Money Talks lectures. The informative 30- to 45-minute programs are presented by some of the hobby's most noted authorities. Presentations are offered Thursday through Saturday, August 11-13, 2016, in the Avila Room of the Hilton Anaheim Hotel.

"Don't miss out on these informative and fun presentations," said Susan McMillan, ANA seminar director. "Our presenters are knowledgeable and enthusiastic about a wide range of subjects and want to share their insights and passion with you."
