ANA eLearning Academy Receives Programming Excellence Award

The American Numismatic Association (ANA) eLearning Academy was recently honored with the EdCom Award for Excellence in Programming during the Mountain-Plains Museums Association's (MPMA) annual conference in Bismarck, ND. This award recognizes exemplary creativity and innovation in museum educational programming in the MPMA region.

The MPMA, one of six regional museum associations in the United States, works in conjunction with the American Alliance of Museums, whose mission is to champion equitable and impactful museums by connecting people, fostering learning and community, and nurturing museum excellence.

The ANA eLearning Academy offers coin collectors and hobbyists a wide range of learning opportunities, including live webinars, youth programs, and online courses, accessible through NumismaTalks, Aristotle's Vault, and more. Explore these award-winning programs at money.org/elearning.

About the ANA eLearning Academy

The ANA's innovative platform includes:

- NumismaTalks – Bi-monthly, live webinars hosted by hobby experts, covering a wide range of numismatic topics.
- Aristotle's Vault – Educational forums for foundational numismatic knowledge, taught by well-known hobby professionals.
- Young Numismatist Programs – Fun, hands-on projects for students (K-12) to encourage an interest in collecting. Kids can earn free coins by completing projects.
- Numismatic Diploma Program – Comprehensive online coursework leading to "Numismatic Scholar" certification.

Jennifer Romanoski (right), MPMA EdCom Award Chair, presents the EdCom Award for Excellence in Programming plaque to ANA Education Director Christian Strayhorn.

- Video Archive – A library of past presentations, webinars, courses, and more.

For more information, contact the ANA's Education Department at (719) 482-9845 or email education@money.org.

The American Numismatic Association is a congressionally chartered, nonprofit educational organization dedicated to encouraging the study and collection of coins and related items. The ANA helps its members and the public discover and explore the world of money through its vast array of educational and outreach programs, to include its museum, library, publications, conventions and webinars.
